|----------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Overall       | Hudson traveled to area rival Medina on a bitterly cold Wednesday night and brought home a 17-5 victory. Hudson moves to 2-0 on the season and will host Mason on Saturday afternoon. The Explorers got goals from 10 different players as the team's balance and depth came into play.                           |
| Offense       | Offensively, Hudson was very efficient with possessions and shooting. Hudson scored 17 goals on 41 shots. Leading the way was Anthony Rightnour with 5 goals and an assist. Max Cole set up the offense with 1 goal and 3 assists. Pat Burdett had another hattrick as he continues to learn the attack position. |
| Defense       | Stroud Corr played extremely well in the cage recording 13 saves and giving up just 5 goals. Enrique Rodriguez, Danny Saxon, Max Kleiman, and Sean Weigel rotated most of the game at close defense and held the Bees offense in check. Matt Rudy and Nathan Slater also had solid games in support.              |
| Special Teams | The Special Teams continue to be a work in progress on the early season. Once more practice time can be allocated, look to these groups to improve quickly.                                                                                                                                                       |
| Game Balls    | Anthony Rightnour                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
